KNOWLAND'S SPEECH AN INSULT

So Says Wilson of Californian's Charge of Bargain Made With Great Britain

DEPLORES ATTEMPT TO DISCREDIT HIS POLICY

Sure of Passage of Tolls Repeal—Final Vote May Be Reached Late Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, March 30.—President Wilson today resented as a "crowning insult," Representative Knowland's charge made in the House that he had entered into a bargain with England whereby the exemption clause of the canal bill would be repealed in return for England's support of Wilson's Mexican policy. He said: "The whole thing reminds me of a very effective debater who sent a challenge into a hostile country for a debate. The debater spoke first, and convinced the audience that he was right before half of his time elapsed. One of the opposition speaker's friends shouted: 'Call him a liar; make him fight.' That is the state this debate has reached."

The President said he regretted that the debate had degenerated into an organized attempt to discredit the administration, but he is sure of the passage of the repeal resolution. The President stated that all those opposing him were participating in a "campaign of misrepresentation." He also said that he did not expect the Democratic party to be disrupted on account of the tolls dispute. He said the question is merely a capital surgical operation. He pointed to the two Democratic planks declaring against subsidies, and added that the repeal of the canal tolls would be a subsidy. The President stated that if international situations had not demanded it, he would not have advocated the repeal of the free tolls clause.

Final Vote Tuesday

The final vote on the Sims resolution repealing the exemption of tolls on American shipping through the Panama canal will be reached tomorrow afternoon, according to House leaders. Today's session was devoted to minor speeches for and against the repeal. Speaker Clark is expected to make the final speech against the measure. It is not known whether he will attack the President or confine himself to an economic discussion. If he attacks President Wilson, the latter's friends are certain to retaliate.

CLARK MAY NOT MAKE ATTACK ON PRESIDENT

There is a growing belief this afternoon that Speaker Clark will not attack the president before the House when he speaks against the Sims canal repeal resolution. Adamson or Covington will reply to Clark, in case he speaks, and they intimated that it depended entirely on Clark whether there would be peace or war. Nine of the twenty hours' debate had been spent when the House met at noon. The session will end at 7 o'clock to night, leaving four hours tomorrow, then will come the vote on the resolution.

SIR EDWARD GREY DENIES COMPACT WITH WILSON

LONDON, March 30.—Foreign Minister Sir Edward Grey denied before the House of Commons this afternoon that there was an Anglo-American understanding back of President Wilson's request for the repeal of the exemption of American shipping clause in the Panama Canal tolls act. He said: "There is no foundation for the reports that England has agreed to support the American-Mexican policy in return for the passage of the tolls repeal bill."

CHILD MOTHER MAY LIVE TO TESTIFY AGAINST KILFOIL

LOS ANGELES, March 30.—With the birth in San Diego of a daughter to Lillian Palmer, new developments are expected in the case of Philip A. Kilfoil, charged with being the father of the child. Both the 14-year-old mother and baby are growing stronger today and are expected to live. Assistant District Attorney Ford said he would bring the child-mother and her baby here as soon as they were able to travel. He expects Miss Palmer will be the principal witness against Kilfoil.

Subpoenas have been issued for grand jury witnesses to appear tomorrow in the probe of the poisoning of Kilfoil's sister Mary.

Friends of Boss Murphy Say He Will Fight Them

William Church Osborn, the wealthy lawyer, who was recently elected chairman of the Democratic committee of New York state, has gained the enmity of some adherents of Charles F. Murphy, boss of Tammany Hall, and until lately in full command of the party throughout the state. They fear that he is trying to alienate Murphy's up-state followers, who in combining with him have made it possible to control the party machinery in the state.

Osborn was chosen at the instance of Governor Glynn, who has taken a neutral position toward Murphy. But he has held many conferences with county leaders, and Tammany men think he is making an effort to draw them from Murphy. Osborn has always believed in politics of a much different kind than that practiced by Murphy, and most of those familiar with state politics expect to see an open break on the first occasion.

MAY ESTABLISH A FORESTRY BOARD ASSUMED BY ASQUITH

Suggestion at the Associated Chambers May Work Into Action

ACT GIVES POWER TO PROTECT TREES

By Co-operation With Supervisors, Could Plant Trees on Roads

With the agitation that has been stirred up by the Associated Chambers of Commerce in favor of planting trees along the state and county paved highways, the suggestion of District Attorney West at the last meeting of the Associated Chambers that such a matter could be handled best by a board of forestry seems likely to bear fruit. Several of the county officers approve the project, saying they believe the board of forestry would be a beneficial institution.

Los Angeles, Riverside and a few other counties have organized a board of forestry, and have found it a useful body. Under the law this board has a good deal of power over the disposal and planting of trees, hedges and shrubs along highways of the county. Through co-operation with the supervisors, this board could carry out projects for lining the good roads with ornamental trees.

At a recent meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce complaint was made that bridges and fences are disfigured by advertising cards. While the board of forestry would have no power to stop advertising on fences on private property, it could prosecute persons who stick signs or cards upon county bridges or upon trees on a road right-of-way. The board takes over the enforcement of rules against cutting and trimming trees. Telephone and power companies could be prosecuted for slashing trees.

Under the act of the legislature, which went into effect on Aug. 10, 1913, the forestry board would consist of five members which should select a forester who would be the executive officer of the board.

The provisions of the county board of forestry act in brief follow: Section 1.—The board of supervisors may appoint a county board of forestry of five members, one from each supervisory district, who shall serve without compensation, and who shall have exclusive charge of all shade and ornamental trees, hedges, lawns, shrubs and flowers growing or to be grown upon the public roads, highways, grounds and property within the county.

Section 2.—Within two months after electing to avail itself of the provisions of the act, the supervisors shall appoint the board of forestry and fix the salary of the forester at not over $150 a month.

Section 3.—Term of office shall be four years, except that the first appointees shall by lot determine which two shall retire at the end of two years, which two at the end of three years, and which at the end of four years.

Section 4.—Within ten days after appointment the board of forestry must organize.

Section 5.—The board of forestry shall appoint a forester, and shall prescribe his duties.

Section 6.—The forester shall give a $1,000 bond, shall be secretary of the board, and shall enforce this act and lawful orders of the board of forestry.

Section 7.—The board of forestry shall "have power over and jurisdiction to decide upon the variety, kind and character of trees, hedges, shrubs, lawns and flowers that shall be planted upon said roads, highways, grounds and property, and to determine all questions respecting the pruning, cutting and removal of any trees or hedges now growing and to grow thereon and the necessity therefore and the extent of and the manner in which said work shall be done, and under the authority of the board of supervisors of its respective county to plant and properly care for such trees, hedges, shrubs, lawns and flowers; and to enforce and carry out and effectuate the provisions of this act," provided that nothing shall be construed to interfere with the jurisdiction of the board of supervisors over roads, highways, grounds and property in the improvement, care and general control thereof.

Section 8.—It shall be unlawful for any person or corporation, except the board of forestry or its employees, to "trim, prune, cut, deface, destroy or remove any shade or ornamental tree or hedge growing or to grow upon any such road, highway, grounds or property, or to plant, place or attach to or put upon any such trees, hedges, shrubs, lawns or flowers any sign, notice or advertisement or advertising device without the consent in writing of said board first obtained, or to plant any tree or hedge on any such road, highway, grounds or property without such written consent," provided that the board shall have no jurisdiction over any fruit or nut

Unexpected Move of English Premier Rouses Hearty Enthusiasm

FIELD MARSHALL FRENCH HOLDS TO RESIGNATION

Believed Present Agitation is Adding Support to Home Rule Measure

LONDON, March 30.—War Secretary John Seely's resignation was announced in the House of Commons by Premier Asquith this afternoon.

Asquith assumed the war portfolio himself, saying he would resign and go before the people at the by-election for endorsement to office. The maneuver is everywhere regarded as one of the most adroit in the history of British politics. It threw the Liberal-Labor-Irish coalition into a frenzy of enthusiasm.

FRENCH PERSISTS IN HIS RESIGNATION

Despite Seely's resignation, Field Marshal French and General Ewart have refused to withdraw their resignations. Followers of the government regretted this, because it is due entirely to a question of personal honor without reference to the cabinet policy of which French approves. It has been feared that his persisted resignation would result as a lever for the army insurrectionists. Premier Asquith's handling of the situation has been so clever, however, that the feeling is growing that his cabinet will weather the storm.

MAN HUNT CALLS OUT HUNDREDS IN NORTH

Canadian Border Threshed in Search of Murderer—200 Men on the Trail

MOUNT VERNON, Wash., March 30.—More than 200 men are scouring the country between the Canadian border and Everett for Charles Hopkins, who has committed several murders since the first of the year. He is regarded as a second Harry Tracey. His latest victims are Antonio Gerba, John Freeman and an unidentified man whom Hopkins shot Saturday, near Ehrlich. Gerba was instantly killed, Freeman was seriously wounded, and the third man is missing.

Hopkins has the words "True Love" tattooed on his hand. Freeman in a conscious period recognized the picture of Hopkins as the man who did the shooting, saying: "That's him; that's him." The whole country is aroused, and it is believed Hopkins cannot escape. A desperate battle is expected as the fugitive is heavily armed.

Section 9.—Any person violating this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Section 10.—All fines shall go to the board of forestry fund.

Section 11.—The supervisors shall appropriate money for the use of the board of forestry sufficient to pay the forester and the necessary expenses of the board of forestry.

HO! FOR THE REGISTER'S DOMESTIC SCIENCE COURSE

Scientific Principles as Applied to Practical Housekeeping to Be Taught to Santa Ana Housekeepers

The Register Has Secured Miss Florence M. Peet for a Week's Engagement

Will Conduct School of House-keeping and Cookery Methods in Elks' Hall

Santa Ana housekeepers will hail with delight the announcement of a cooking school to be conducted, under the auspices of the Register, by Miss Florence M. Peet. Miss Peet has conducted cooking schools in many of the large cities in this country and abroad, and those who attend are most enthusiastic in their praise of the lecturer and her methods, as well as of the delicious foods she prepares. The school will begin on Monday, April 6th and continue all week, in Elks Hall. The demand for Miss Peet's lectures and cooking lessons is so great it is never possible to secure her for more than one week.

Domestic science as applied to practical housekeeping and every day cookery will be demonstrated by Miss Peet. Many conservative housekeepers who have felt that domestic science was too complex and impracticable for everyday use have been converted to its favor by Miss Peet's reasonable and lucid explanations and suggestions. She is a noted lecturer and famous cook who has helped thousands of women to better, easier housekeeping methods and to better cooking. She is an experienced housekeeper, up in all the latest and most approved housekeeping and homemaking ideas, and explains and demonstrates these in a practical, workable manner which appeals to inexperienced and experienced housekeepers alike.

Miss Peet says there is every reason to believe the school to be held next week will be a rousing success. She has been studying and traveling for a number of years in the interest of good cooking and brings many new ideas in foods and food preparation to present to those who attend the Register's School of Methods for Housewives and cooks. She has planned several new and interesting features which cannot fail to be helpful to women in their household operations. She has a number of new things to offer in the way of cookery and many new and original recipes to demonstrate. She will probably bake ice cream and will certainly make doughnuts.

IS POPULAR

Miss Peet attracts great crowds of women wherever she appears. The idea some people have that the majority of women care for nothing but dress and society is absolutely refuted wherever Miss Peet conducts a cooking school. It would then seem that all women are interested in how best to make and keep their homes, and how to prepare the most nourishing foods for their families.

Miss Peet will give much information in regard to food values. She says this knowledge is invaluable to the woman who desires to provide

ROBBINS FIGURES COUNTY'S SEASON'S RAINS AT METER RATE WORTH $25,000,000

Mr. Editor:—Noticing an item regarding the weight of an inch of rain I have made the following figures, which are to me very interesting, and I submit them for the attention of your readers:

One inch of rain weighs to the acre over 113 tons, and to the square mile 72,600 tons. Estimating the area of Santa Ana at nine square miles, one inch of rain covering Santa Ana weighs 653,200 tons. It would measure 20,908,200 cubic feet, and if sold to the citizens of Santa Ana at the present retail meter rate would cost the consumers $20,908. That is, every inch of rain that falls in Santa Ana is a present to our people of $20,908, and our rain for the season in the city alone would be worth over $280,000. What a magni-good meals for her family at a minimum expenditure of time, labor and money. She will show what elements certain foods contain, and what each of these elements does in the way of building up and repairing tissue. All of this Miss Peet explains in a simple helpful manner as interesting and entertaining to women who have studied the chemistry of foods as to those who never heard of carbohydrates, nitrogenous foods, etc.

MISS FLORENCE M. PEET

Miss Peet is constantly studying up new ideas to the end that even her most excellent cooking may be made better. She says this idea holds good in every other field of art and science. "Why then," she asks, "should we be content with antiquated cooking ideas and methods?"

In addition to the cooking school, the Register is arranging for food exhibits and demonstrations of various kinds, and hopes to present much of interest and importance to housekeepers.

MAXIM GORKY IN POOR HEALTH

MOSCOW, March 30.—Maxim Gorky, who is visiting his publisher, M. Sytin, near here, today was said to be in very poor health, and is understood to be suffering from tuberculosis. The political police have thus far interfered in no way with the popular Russian author, although he was proscribed as a revolutionary refugee when he left Russia in 1906. Gorky has just sold to his publisher the copyright of all his works for $100,000.

Let us take Orange county with its approximately 508,000 acres. One inch of rain in Orange county weighs 57,404,000 tons, an incompressible amount, which would cost the farmers of Orange county if bought in the city of Santa Ana at present meter rates, $1,844,040, and the cost for this season at the rate would be nearly $25,000,000.

Think of the atmosphere carrying such enormous weights, and it will in a measure explain the great force of running waters, and why so much damage is done when very heavy rains continue for but a comparatively short time.

Here's to Jupiter Pluvius, the strong man who casts such bountiful presents upon our people!

O. M. ROBBINS,

VILLA'S LONG SILENCE IS OMINOUS

Rebels at Juarez Alarmed—No News from Torreon Since 1 O'clock This Morning

FEAR VILLA DRAWN IN TRAP BY GEN. VELASCO

Slaughter at Torreon is Great; 2500 Federals Dead and as Many Wounded

JUAREZ, March 30.—No news has been received from General Villa since 1 o'clock this morning. The rebel officers are visibly alarmed. They are still hopeful the Constitutionalists are yet gaining ground but are also fearful that Villa may have fallen into a trap. The report that Villa was wounded, though unconfirmed, also troubled them.

General Velasco, the federal commander, is showing resourcefulness and ability which has surprised everybody. The Constitutional authorities freely admitted today that they are alarmed.

GREAT SLAUGHTER KNOWN AS TAKING PLACE AT TORREON

EL PASO, March 30.—Arrivals from Chihuahua City today said they believed at least 1500 Constitutionalists had been killed at Torreon and that 600 rebels wounded from the besieged city had already reached Chihuahua City. One of the wounded soldiers said that General Villa was wounded. This was denied, however.

The battle is still raging in the streets of Torreon though both sides are nearly exhausted. The rebels are slowly gaining ground. It is estimated that 2500 federals have been killed and as many more wounded.

HOW THE REBELS DO AWAY WITH THEIR PRISONERS

A blood-curdling story of the brutality of the rebel troops is told by Daniel Mier, the only survivor of a crew of a freight train which ran into the battle between federals and rebels near Eloroud. "The government troops were defeated," said Mier, "and they stopped the train and ran for the cars. The rebels overtook them and killed every man. We were captured and they took us to where a federal prisoner stood. A rebel officer said to us: 'Here's how we slaughter the federal prisoners.' He then took a shot at the man at long range, which missed, then walked over and placed his pistol to the federal's head and pulled the trigger."

FOUR DROWN IN SAN JOAQUIN RIVER

Bridge Gives Way—Automobile Plunges in, Torrent—Three Die in Oakland Accident

FRESNO, March 30.—Four persons were drowned in thirty feet of water in the San Joaquin river about forty miles from here Saturday night, when one of the cables holding up a bridge across the raging torrent high up in the Sierras gave way and plunged an automobile in which the quartet were riding into the waters.

The drowned persons were: L. N. Peart, general superintendent San Joaquin Light & Power Company, Fresno; J. E. Burgess, assistant to Mr. Peart, also of Fresno; Percy Marks, chauffeur, of Fresno; Mrs. Percy Marks of Fresno. The two latter were bride and groom.

JACOB SCHIFF IS HEAD OF RESERVE BOARD SAYS RUMOR

NEW YORK, March 30.—It is reported that President Wilson has offered the position of governor of the regional reserve board to Jacob Schiff and that the latter has accepted the position.

SCANDINAVIA IS DESIRED BY RUSSIA

Believed that War of Conquest of Sweden and Norway is Being Planned

STOCKHOLM, March 30.—Is Russia preparing to grab the Scandinavian peninsula? This question is being thoroughly threshed out in the campaign that is now on, looking to the election of a new Riksdag. A good many facts have been brought forward, which despite semi-official denials from St. Petersburg, tend to support the belief prevalent throughout Sweden and to a certain extent in Norway, that there is real and imminent danger of Russian aggression, and consequently ample justification for an immediate and heavy increase of expenditure for the national defense.

Here are some of the charges against Russia that are made by the Conservatives who are supporting King Gustave's program for a lengthening without delay the term of compulsory military service as well as extensive appropriations for enlarging the navy and improving the land fortifications. Finland, just across the Gulf of Bothnia, is now being permanently garrisoned by the Twenty-second Russian army division—25,000 men. Two other divisions are stationed just over the Finnish border, near St. Petersburg, from which locality they could be drawn and thrown into Sweden within ten days by means of the new military railways which have recently been completed in Finland and which extend right up to the Swedish frontier. Army strategists assert that within three weeks Russia could place 150,000 men in the field against Sweden.

In the past three years Russia has been secretly engaged in building extensive fortifications on the Finnish West Coast, and is now said to be violating the treaty of Paris of 1856 whereby the Aland Islands were to remain unfortified. For several months past there has been an unusual increase in the number of Russian tramps and peddlers throughout Sweden, especially along the eastern coast in the north. A number of these when arrested were found to be in possession of military maps similar to those used by the Swedish general staff. It was noted that others, who professed to be merely wandering Russian peasants looking for work, not only bore no signs of manual labor on their hands but could speak Swedish fluently. In this connection the espionage scandal of last fall is recalled as the result of which the then Russian minister and his military attaché were compelled to leave the country. It was also openly charged that the former Princess Maria Pavlovna, wife of Prince Wilhelm, second son of King Gustav, was a particularly active Russian spy. She, too, has fled, and the prince is now suing for a divorce.

The Swedish Conservatives are making good use in their campaign of the words of Dr. Fritjof Nansen, the Arctic explorer, who in addressing an anti-government mass meeting the other day in Christiania attacked the radicals for preferring the promotion of all sorts of social reforms instead of increasing Norway's defenses, and said: "I fear that the day will soon come when Norway and Sweden will have to unite against a common enemy for the defense of their neutrality."

JUSTICE MUST WAIT ON GRIM REAPER

Mrs. P. T. Anderson, Los Angeles probation officer, was sent to Chicago with a requisition from the governor of California for Miss Helene Young, wanted in the coast city for forgery. She found the young woman at the bedside of her dying sister, Mrs. Laura Hall, at 4139 Indiana avenue.

Mrs. Hall was afflicted with cancer, and it was only a matter of days, the physicians said, before she would die. The sister was the only one left to nurse her. Of course,

Mrs. Hall did not want the sister to leave her, nor did Helene want to go. She got a lawyer to appear to the courts for a writ of habeas corpus, and three judges decided that the young woman could stay with her dying sister to the end. There was nothing more for Mrs. Anderson to do but wait. She wired for instructions to her superiors in California. When Mrs. Hall is buried the sister must go on to Los Angeles to be tried for forgery with a prison term among the possibilities of her future.

and independence." Russia is doing all she can to ally the Swedish suspicions. Says the Novoye Vremya, semi-official organ of the St. Petersburg government, "If the Swedes should exercise a little more perspicacity they would readily see that their potential enemy is Germany, and that it is from the Wilhelmstrasse that their baseless suspicions of Russia's ulterior designs against its Scandinavian friend and neighbor have been fostered. In case of an armed collision between Russia and Germany the latter power would at once endeavor to establish a naval base at some point on the Swedish coast; consequently it behooves the Swedes to be prepared for such an eventuality by rendering their coast defenses as far as possible impregnable. This is the precautionary task of the Swedes, instead of uselessly lavishing their treasure on their land frontier defenses."

ANAHEIM RIVER COMMITTEE PREPARING REPORT FOR RIVER CONTROL

Mother Colony Pays $800 for Damage Done to Wall by Excavation

ANAHEIM, March 30.—It looks as though Anaheim is assured of adequate protection from the waters of the Santa Ana river.

J. W. Duckworth appointed the committee of E. A. Day, W. M. Wellman, F. C. Krause, E. N. Cook and G. Bruns, to investigate the local situation and see what would be the best plan to place before the county supervisors for their consideration.

Anaheim saw this last winter what it is possible to expect from the Santa Ana river if it should break over its banks during a heavy rain. Of course this city can put up an embankment on East street that would protect the city from danger of the river, but it would be far more advisable to join the outlying districts and aid in protecting valuable orange and walnut groves adjacent to this city.

It will be necessary to have the river under control before the county good roads will be constructed on Olive road and the big cement bridge built over the river on the same road. This committee will do a lot of preliminary work and get the plans ready for presentation to the Board of Supervisors for their consideration. It is expected that the whole matter will be ready for presentation to the supervisors before much time is elapsed.

Pays For Damage

The city of Anaheim has paid F. Ruhman $800 to settle for the damage done to his building on North Los Angeles street when the sewer line was put in the alley alongside his store, occupied by the H. H. Gardner Co.

The sewer line was run too close to the building and despite efforts on the part of the contractor, C. E. Chamberlain, to prevent damage to the building, it was found necessary to have the wall rebuilt. Ruhman threatened suit against the city and City Attorney Ames advised a settlement rather than a suit. The city attorney said that from a legal standpoint he did not consider that the city was responsible, but the council thought it better to settle than to stand a suit. If the sewer line had been put in the center of the alley there possibly would have been no trouble.

THREE SANTA ANA BOYS TOOK POINTS IN SATURDAY MEET

Plavan Made Best Jump of Day
But the Jump Was Disqualified

Santa Ana athletes got away with seven points at the Southern California track and field championships last Saturday, finishing in eighth place out of an entry list of twenty-three schools. Long Beach won the meet which was very closely contested. When the relay was called there were five schools who had a chance to take the cup. Manual Arts and Anaheim were tied for first with 14 points each. Pasadena, Long Beach and Riverside all had totals large enough to come out on top should they annex the five points for the relay. Manual Arts piled up a lead of several yards during the first of the race but the last lap man for Long Beach came through with a burst of speed and passed the Manual man with the tape only a few yards away.

The meet as a whole was rather slow as the showers in the morning had softened the track, but good records were made in the field events. Bagard of Pasadena heaved the shot out 51 ft. 1 in. The pole vault went at 11 ft. 9 in., the third place man being only three inches lower.

Beebe's wonderful work in the mile and a half brought Anaheim ten points and this with the four won by Douglas in the quarter landed the Orange county school on a level with Manual Arts, tied for second place.

Murray of Orange won the high hurdles in good time but his brother, who won the 440 in the Orange county meet did not qualify for the final quarter so five points was the limit for the county champs. Watson, the other Orange star, for some reason did not compete. Jones of Whittier was the surprise in the sprints when he won the hundred and placed second in the 220-yard dash.

Creighton of Manual won the high jump at 5 feet, 11 in., defeating Jumbo Anderson of Santa Ana, who also cleared that height, but on his fourth trial. Plavan of Santa Ana made the best distance of the day in the broad jump but his toe went over the take-off board and the jump was not counted. House of Riverside captured the event with a jump of 21 ft. 3 1/2 in. Keech took third in the half-mile, beating out his old rival Yerkes and finishing within a few yards of Beebe. Herb Damron was beaten for third place in the 440 by inches. As it was he outran Les Dana of San Diego, last year's speedy runner. The local boys made an excellent showing, putting up a game fight in every event they entered.

WHAT IS DOING ABROAD

(By Ed. L. Keen, London Correspondent United Press)

LONDON, March 27.—The United States of Europe! Sounds sort of fantastical—but it is the well thought-out idea of one of England's hardest-headed and most successful business men, and he is boosting it with just as much energy as if he really expected to live to see its accomplishment. He is 74 now, but, as he is as active physically as a good many men a score of years his junior, perhaps he has a fighting chance to witness the realization of his unique ambition after all.

In the past two months Sir Max Waechter and the British government have been engaged in a fierce competition to ascertain which could spend the most money in advertising—Waechter soliciting recruits for his European Unity League, and the government inviting the young men of the country to enlist in the British army. Following the example of the war office, Waechter has been running full-page displays in the leading London and provincial dailies, at from $500 to $1500 an insertion, besides maintaining a large staff of clerks and sending out huge quantities of literature.

Peace is a business proposition with him, just as war is with the government. Waechter's regular vocation is ship-building, but since the first of the year he has been devoting practically all of his time to the organization of his league—which now numbers nearly a thousand serious minded Britishers, many of them prominent in political, commercial and literary life—and to the dissemination of its principles throughout the land. In a nutshell, here are his plans and the reasons for them, as he outlined them today at the League's office in St. James street:

"If we are to abolish war and the ruinously expensive preparations for war that are now impoverishing Europe, we must abolish the disunion at present existing among the great powers. The antagonistic grouping of the six big nations into the Triple Alliance (Germany, Austria and Italy), and the Triple Entente (Great Britain, Russia and France), which has produced so much distrust and jealousy and wild competition in armaments, must give way to the Sextuple Alliance, and this will naturally lead to a general federation of European countries—the United States of Europe. Under present conditions all attempts to restrict armaments are bound to end in failure. Armaments can be restricted only if they become unnecessary only when Europe is united.

"Unification should take place on a federal and economic basis—like the United States of America—leaving to each component nation the fullest possible measure of individual liberty and enabling it to deal with its own affairs in its own way. A feature of the federation would be the elimination of the present customs of boundaries. All Europe should form one great free-trade market protected by a proper tariff against the nations without.

"Under the federation the two-and-a-half billion dollars now spent by Europe annually on its armies and navies would go into the channels of trade and commerce and the five million soldiers and sailors, the strongest and healthiest men of their respective races, would be released to re-enter the field of production and to maintain themselves and others by the work of their hands, instead of being maintained by the rest of the population. In America enterprise is greater and wages are higher, largely because the wealth of the country is not drained away in the mad race for armaments."

Although Sir Max admits that its realization may prove difficult and may require a long time, he sees nothing whatever impracticable or impossible in the scheme. During the past six years in which he has been working on the subject he has interviewed a majority of the ruling European monarchs and their leading ministers, and he says that most of them agree with him in principle. He is convinced that the federation can be brought about if the people are properly educated up to the idea. And this is the specific object of the European Unity League—the organization of a tremendous propaganda among the masses of the population. Encouraged by the sympathetic reception given the plan in this country, Sir Max proposes soon to begin a similar advertising campaign in Germany. This will be followed by a systematic effort to demonstrate to the German people that their anti-English prejudices and suspicions are unfounded. Once the people of these two leading nations of the two hostile European groups become thoroughly reconciled the way would be paved for an Anglo-German alliance, which easily could be developed then into a general alliance and union.

Waechter is an Anglo-German himself. He was born and educated in Stettin, and when he was 22 years of age settled in England. Six years later he became a naturalized citizen, and in 1902 was knighted by King Edward. There are no initiation fees or membership dues in the European Unity League, and applicants incur no financial obligation of any kind. Waechter is personally financing the whole proposition.

MOTORCYCLE SKIDS, LANDS FULLERTON MAN ON ROADSIDE

Painful though not serious concussion of the brain and various bruises are Frank H. Root's as a result of his motorcycle skidding on the hill north of Fullerton yesterday morning about 11:30.

Root, who lives on East Amerige street, Fullerton, was going up the hill at a good rate of speed when, in some unknown manner, he lost control of his machine, while skidding for a distance of about twenty feet and landed the rider on a pile of rocks and broken concrete alongside of the road.

The injured man was picked up by Stuart Briggs of Santa Ana and taken to the office of Dr. Clark on Spadra street, Fullerton. Root was taken to his home later in the day and at last reports was regaining consciousness.

TALBERT

FISHERMAN'S CLUB LEADING A REVIVAL

TALBERT, March 30.—Four young men members of the Fisherman's Club of Los Angeles have begun a series of revival services at Talbert and will continue for a week or ten days. Rev. R. R. Raymond of Santa Ana, a former pastor of the church here, preached the sermon Sunday morning to a good size congregation and after the service many came forward and gave the preacher and the pastor of the church their hands saying they wanted to live a better life.

At the evening services the Rev. R. P. Howell, the South Methodist presiding elder of the Los Angeles district, preached a strong sermon on the theme "Rolling the Stone Away."

The men who have charge of these meetings have made it their one object and purpose in life to help men and women to a better life. They are musicians as well as preachers. One of the boys plays the violin and others sing solos. They have already established the fact that they are in this community for the good they may be able to do. The meetings are at 7:45 o'clock every night, at which hour the song service begins.

NEWPORT BEACH

HERE IS RAT STORY THE VERY LATEST

Newport News: An epidemic of rats has struck town again and the rodents are doing a great deal of damage. Foreman Bill Smith of the P. L. & P. Co. says that rats in the transformer station of that company in the west part of the city have caused short circuits several times by perching on one wire while their tails overhang another wire. This causes a quick and painless death to the rats but is hard on the electric lights. The rat dogs of the beach are kept busy mornings killing the catch of cage traps of the night before.

F. O. Engstrom sent his household goods down from Los Angeles Friday in three auto trucks and one of the machines attempted to cross the Pacific Electric track at Ninth street with a result that it was so badly stalled for several hours that cars were unable to go to Balboa but had to turn back for Los Angeles at that point.

The Postoffice department is advertising for bids for carrying the mail between the Harper and Newport postoffices. The distance is 2.75 miles and the specifications require that the mail leave Harper at 7:30 a. m., arrive at Newport at 8:00 a. m., leave Newport between 10:00 and 11:00 a. m. after the arrival of the mail from Los Angeles on the Pacific Electric car and to arrive in Harper in a half hour. A bond of $400 is required, the length of the contract is five years and bids must be in the hands of the department by April 7, 1914.

G. W. Kellogg is again in charge of the work of drilling the Collins oil well near the head of the bay. It was necessary to shoot the casing off with dynamite on account of it freezing up in the hole and after several shots the casing was freed after leaving about 150 feet of it in the hole. Work on the well was set back about a month by getting the casing fast.

JUDGE THOMAS WILL INQUIRE CLOSELY INTO RESIDENCE OF EACH PLAINTIFF IN DIVORCE

Hereafter plaintiffs in divorce actions on trial in this county will have to make excellent proof of residence. It has come to the ears of Superior Judge Thomas and West that there have been a few instances where Los Angeles residents have established fictitious residence in this county in order to bring divorce proceedings here. Judge Thomas, in whose department divorce cases fall, though an occasional case is heard by Judge West, declares that he shall make diligent inquiry whenever he has any reason to suspect that the plaintiff is not a bona fide resident of the county.

It has been alleged that divorces have been sought upon fictitious residence established by the plaintiff renting a room or cottage in this county for three months.

If the defendant does not contest the case, there is no one in court to give information concerning the real residence of the plaintiff.

The two Orange county superior judges have decided notions on divorce, and they will undoubtedly make things warm for any person attempting to "put one over on the court" along the line indicated.

"From now on," declared Judge

Thomas, "that matter of residence is something that is going to be inquired into mightily closely by this court. Legal residence in the county is one of the things that must be proven under the law, and it has always been proven to my satisfaction in every case that has come before me. I have taken the testimony presented because my suspicions had not been aroused. Now that my attention has been called to the matter, you may rest assured I shall make it a point to make particular inquiry as to residence."

"A residence made by renting a room or a cottage with no intention of becoming a permanent resident of this county is a purely fictitious residence, and a fraud upon the court. It becomes about the same thing as perjury."

Judge West declared that the period of residence required, three months, is too short. He thinks the legislature ought to make it six months at least.

From a list of plaintiffs of divorce cases brought in this county in the last four or five months, several are found whose names appear in the Los Angeles city directory.

OUR WEEKLY SERMON

Preached by Rev. J. A. Stevenson, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Sunday, March 29, 1914.

Text: Luke 18:30. "Shall receive manifold more in this time and in the age to come eternal life."

The Christian's Compensations

Peter had asked his Lord a question about the compensations of discipleship and the words of the text contain the answer. The Master meets the heart hunger of life with assurances of plenty. God has made abundant provision for every physical, mental, social and spiritual need of man. God's rewards are ever sure, adequate and abundant. These compensations come to the real Christian. If he is not sincerely Christian he cannot even recognize them as compensations. What are these compensations?

The Approval of Self

Conscience is the great detective. He gathers the evidence, acts as prosecuting attorney, as jury and as judge. He renders a verdict. From his decision there is no stay, no appeal, no review, no suspended sentence, no probation.

By means of conscience there comes into the mind of every intelligent man that hears the Gospel message, the haunting conviction of the claims of the Christ. So long as these claims are rejected the soul suffers from self conviction at the bar of justice. There comes a haunting conviction that the life that is not Christian is being lived below par. Conscience says, "you hold yourself too cheap, you hold your life, with its splendid possibilities too cheap, there is more in you, there is more for you, there is more through you than you have ever dreamed."

When, then, the soul enthrones Jesus there comes a harmony and peace of God because the life is lived in conscience harmony with God. Any life lived below this brings its own condemnation. Any life given wholly to God brings conscious, grateful, commendation of itself.

The Approval of the World

There is an idea that the world sneers at the Christian. I venture to think and assert that this is not the case. The world often sneers at the idea that exists in its mind as to what constitutes a Christian, but that caricature is not, by any means, a Christian. The world sneers at the imitation Christian just as it sneers at any imitation. The world is keen to see the hair of the wolf showing through the sheep's skin and laughs. But the world sincerely honors the man that modestly, sincerely and sacrificially follows Jesus. This approval reacts upon the world for when a man approves and admires he is more likely to be.

The Approval of the Christ

To the Christian the Christ is a living, cognizant personality. He is a personality that the soul admires and adores. The hero is proud of his Carnegie medal. The old soldier wears the badge of the "Legion of Honor" with the air of a conqueror. The painter is delighted by the commendation of the old master and the Christian is satisfied by the commendation of his Christ. When the soul is in conscious harmony with Him and is able to say "I know that this has been pleasing unto Him," then that soul has its richest reward.

A Clear Faith in Immortality

The faith of the Christ was apparent. He manifested it in his prayer when he said, "and now Father I come to thee." He showed it clearly in His teaching when he said, "because I live ye shall live also." He creates this faith by his fellowship. His fellowship is pervading and compelling. If you go one mile with him he takes you two, if you go two he takes you three, if you go with him time he convinces you that you shall go with him in eternity. He steals into the brain and gets intellectual assent, he steals into the heart and by his winsomeness gets moral consent, he weaves himself into the soul and by his life there teaches the soul in glad triumph to cry, "Oh death where is thy sting, oh, grave where is thy victory. Thanks be to God who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

Here, then, are the Christian's compensations.

A clear conscience because life is lived in accord with the teachings of Jesus.

The commendation of fellow men for a life that is lived in accord with the finest ideals and by its magnetic pull is drawing other men to higher levels.

The commendation of the living, loving Christ and the clear unshaken faith in a better life, a better fellowship and a better service in a better land.

God grant that we may sit at his feet and be taught of him and then that we may rise in the dignity of children of the King to bring to the world a blessing, to be rich and to enrich in the name of him that "giveth liberally and upbraideth not."

SPECIAL WASHINGTON LETTER

By Burton K. Standish

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Just because accidents will happen like that "freakback" which on March 4, 1909, isolated Washington, the weather bureau wants it distinctly understood that its predictions are not guesswork. They aren't any soothsayer's prophecies up at the observatory; they don't believe in Brother Groundhog, nor the tree frog, nor the moss on the trees, nor any of those other old-fashioned weather guides. The process of figuring out the kind of weather that is coming is a highly scientific work.

Some folks have an idea there is something occult about the forecasting of storms, frosts and floods. Not a few think it is observers must necessarily get their data by reading the planets, the stars and the moon. But they don't.

"Suppose a business man had ordered a carload of pineapples from Hawaii," says a statement just issued from the bureau in explanation of its work. "He would know the average time it would take the steamer to make the trip to the Pacific port, the average time for unloading and loading into refrigerator cars, and the average number of days to be allowed for the trip across the continent to New York. His estimate, however, would be subject to error, because the steamship might be delayed by fog, or the railroad cars by accident.

Storms, like pineapples, as a rule do not originate in the United States. They come to us from the Philippines, Japan, Siberia, Alaska, Canada, or the Gulf of Mexico. The weather bureau gets cable, telegraph or wireless notice of a foreign storm.

"Station after station and vessel after vessel report the storm's arrival in its neighborhood so that the general direction and rate of progress can be determined very early. In fact, the arrival of some storms can be foretold ten days in advance.

"The forecasters watch for the region of low barometer, which is the storm center around which the winds blow. The whirl or eddy moves bodily forward with the general eastward drift of about 650 miles a day in our latitudes. The forecaster determines the direction of movement of the storm and its velocity.

"When weather disturbances are reported, the forecasters know from experience about how long it takes them to reach our Pacific Coast and then how long after they will reach the Atlantic Coast.

"To keep tab on cold waves that come into the United States from Canada and Alaska, the weather bureau studies the Canadian weather reports. England sends reports from Iceland, the British Islands and Continental Europe and daily reports come from St. Petersburg. A storm encircles the world in its course.

"The same businesslike system of tracing the track of a storm is used in determining the arrival of frosts."

How the youth of the land figure in the wireless business is indicated in figures just issued by the Department of Commerce. Of 2346 licensed stations, 1949 are operated by persons under 21 years of age. Of the first grade operators 57 per cent were 21 years of age or older and 83 per cent 18 or older. Of the second grade operators, 49 per cent were 21 years of age or older.

A national search for old ballads has just been inaugurated by the Bureau of Education. Combined that many of the English and Scottish popular ballads of olden times still survive in the United States and that immediate steps are necessary to rescue them from oblivion, the bureau has commissioned Professor C. Alphonse Smith of the University of Virginia, a prominent folk-lore investigator, to institute a nation-wide search.

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat Less Meat if You Feel Backache or Have Bladder Trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.—Advertisement.

"THE DIGNITY THAT DOTH HEDGE A KING"

The above familiar quotation is suggested by President Wilson's partly whimsical but mostly serious complaint, in his Press Club speech, of the formalities that surround him as president. No doubt every president and others of high station have felt this awkwardness.

A person may be perfectly voluble and self possessed under ordinary circumstances. But let him by some chance be presented to a president, and his tongue cleaves to the roof of his mouth. The president meanwhile feels just as desirous of simple and unaffected converse with his fellows as any of us. But he is cut off from all that by "the dignity that doth hedge a king."

Presidents and other high officials get close to the daily life of the common people, whenever the persons whom they meet in conversation throw aside the embarrassment which they feel in the presence of high dignity. The story is told of a rustic preacher who was once sent as delegate to a body containing many famous men. He approached the assemblage of the mighty ones of the land with trepidation. But after a few days he discerned that these great dignitaries were in fact just like other people. The higher they were, the simpler and the more unaffected and approachable. Afterward he remarked, "I found out that when they get their jackets off every one is about alike."

A man who was once so placed that he overheard a confidential conversation between President McKinley and Mark Hanna said he expected that they would be discussing great matters of state or the arcana of politics in a very dignified manner. Actually they spent their time talking about the selection of shoes and care of the feet. When you have to meet a president or other high authority, don't talk philosophy or international law to him. Talk to him as you would to your neighbor across the back yard fence. It will be a great relief to him.

A REVIVAL OF BUCKET-SHOPPING

Little has been heard about the operations of "bucket-shops" for the past five years. The revival in many places of alleged bucket shops as reported a few days ago to the New York stock exchange, was therefore a matter for regret.

The term "bucket-shop" is a little misleading. It is a term of the slums and the underworld, originating in large cities, from low creatures who drain empty beer kegs and retail their drippings in cellars and joints to congregations of vagrants. The name finally attached itself to a certain type of brokerage office.

Having in mind this inglorious label, the confiding investor is often puzzled. The so-called bucket-shop may inhabit buildings with lofty ceilings, massive construction, and glittering furniture. There may be a group of buzzing tickers, oriental rugs, and sumptuous private apartments, where velvet ladies can consult their advisers.

The fraudulent bucket-shop has perhaps a thousand customers, each buying a share of a popular stock on a dollar margin. They are from the most struggling economic levels—the office boy, the servant, the poor widow, the day laborer.

Having this $1000 cash in hand, it used to be easy for the shop, acting with others of its class, to select a time of dull business and depression, and offer for sale 1000 shares of this stock. Probably the price would drop far enough to register on the ticker a quotation a point down. Then the bucket-shop would close the account. By making a "matched purchase" of $1000, the bucket-shop could avoid paying out any money, except commission of one-eighth of one per cent on $2000, amounting to $2.50. It could pocket the balance of the customers' money, amounting to $997.50.

The general outlawing of "wash sales" has thrown difficulties about this particular type of transaction. But there are plenty of other ways of meeting the public appetite for humbugs.

HOME RULE IN TAXATION

Several times in the last few years the legislative assembly of Victoria, Australia, has passed a bill for Home Rule in Taxation, like the home rule tax amendment now before the people of California, but the senate regularly killed the bill. But last fall there was an election in Victoria, and a new senate was elected, and the home rule tax bill has been passed by a vote of more than two to one.

Victoria wants immigrants, and the people know that one way to get immigrants is have a better tax system. They have learned that from the experience of Western Canada, which has had home rule in taxation for more than thirty years.

The Victoria home rule tax law is just like the home rule tax laws of Western Canada. It allows cities and towns to exempt improvements from tax, but does not compel any city or town to make exemptions. The law does not say anything about taxing personal property, because no city or town in Australia is allowed to tax personal property.

The Victoria law is now like the home rule laws of New South Wales and South Australia. The cast-iron tax laws are abolished in those three Australian states.

Important Decision of the Industrial Accident Commission

Under ordinary circumstances when an employee is injured while going to or from work, he is not entitled to receive compensation from his employer. In a few instances, however, the nature of the employment is such that compensation should be paid to him. The latter was held to be the case in a controversy just decided by the Industrial Accident Commission, the award being rendered in favor of J. Ferguson against the Royal Indemnity Company.

Ferguson, who was a messenger in the employ of the Southern California Gas Company, was required to read meters, deliver orders, shut off gas when patrons moved, collect accounts, etc., and if while on his way home he found any of the customers moving out, it was his duty to stop, read the meter, collect the gas bill then due, and in general protect the interests of the company. One evening while on his way home on his motorcycle, for the maintenance of which the company paid a small sum per month, he was run into by an automobile and seriously injured. The employer claimed that Ferguson's work did not end until he reached home, but the insurance company refused to pay him compensation.

The Industrial Accident Commission, however, held that where employees are working with regular hours of duty, whether paid by the day or the week or by calendar month, they are under the protection of the Compensation Act from the moment they enter the premises of the employer at the beginning of their work-day until they leave such employment at the close of such day, but not at other times or places unless specifically commissioned to perform particular services at other times and places. On the other hand, however, there are classes of employees whose days of labor do not end until their work is finished, however early or late they may be required to work. This would be especially true with traveling men who may be said to be under the protection of the Act from the time they leave home for a trip until they return, unless out for joy rides or something else not connected with their employment. The Commission held that because of his character Ferguson's employment was continuous and that he was at all times, except when at home, under the protection of the Workmen's Compensation Act and consequently entitled to compensation.

POTASH: A GOVERNMENT-CONTROLLED INDUSTRY

Of the more important plant foods, none is more thoroughly and successfully organized and controlled than is German potash. Here the government, through the Potash or Kali syndicate, absolutely controls not only price but output also.

We have here an instance of a government controlled trust, organized under and by reason of special legislative acts; and which, by reason of its powers, has been enabled not only to obtain control of the world's potash markets, but by skillful advertising, or propaganda, has also greatly increased the consumption of potash throughout the most progressive countries. German potash salts are today the dominating factor in the potash market throughout the civilized world.

The annual production of potash in Germany amounts to some ten million tons. The exports in 1912 were valued at $14,770,000, increasing in 1913 to over $22,000,000; these exports being a little less than one-half of the total production of the country; of which the United States takes about fifty per cent, amounting to nearly $7,500,000 in 1912 and over $11,000,000 in 1913.

As showing the rapid development of the industry, the Alsace deposits were first mined in 1909, the production of the first year amounting to but 37,000 metric tons. In 1913 this district shipped to the United States alone potash fertilizer salts valued at $54,189. This field, covering a known area of less than seven square miles, is estimated to contain 300,000,000 tons of pure potash.

A recent report from Germany gives the following account of the workings of the German Kali syndicate:

"The state is an interested party in the Kali industry, and the exploitation of the mines and the sale of the products are regulated by special law. The main object of the legislation is to prevent injurious competition and a loss of national wealth through a lowering of the price. The exploiting of potash mines and the sale of potash is free, but so hedged about with restrictions and limitations that it is all practically under the control of the state through the syndicate. The amount of mineral to be extracted is fixed for each mine by the committee of allotment. For new mines a provisional amount is allotted for a period of two years and then a definite allowance is made. A mine may exceed its allotment, but in that case must pay to the state a tax of $2.38 to $4.25 per quintal of pure potash extracted in excess of the allotted amount. No potash fertilizer can be exported except through the syndicate. The state collects a tax of fourteen cents per quintal of pure potash on all sales, and a portion of this revenue is devoted to a propaganda in favor of the use of potash fertilizers."

To stimulate the use of potash fertilizers, the state fixes the maximum price at which it may be sold. This price is ten per cent lower than the average price of the syndicate prior to 1910. Moreover, the distribution committee is charged with the calculation of transportation rates and reductions for long hauls. Five distributing centers have been established.

The export selling price is also fixed by legislative regulations; it cannot be less than the price in the home market except by special authorization of the Bundesrath, or federal council.

Potassium is one of the three elements most essential as plant food. Although the soils of California commonly contain potash in good supply, experience has proved that it is a necessary addition to the plant food supplied to growing crops; this being especially true in the case of mature fruit orchards, of which the orange is a striking example. Its use in the older citrus orchards has, then, become greater year by year, and the German control of the supply has direct influence upon the profits of the fruit growers of the state.

Potash has never been produced in large commercial quantities for plant fertilization in this country, although the federal government has combed the country for natural deposits available for use. At the present time California is the only state in the Union preparing to materially add to our sources of supply; and its successful production from help by the American Potash Company at Long Beach, and the opening of big deposits in the Eastern part of the state promise to have a direct bearing on the market in the not distant future.

In connection with the working and development of the German potash deposits the following is of interest:

"At Stassfurt borings were made as early as 1839, in the hope of finding deposits of common salt, but the brine obtained was so heavily impregnated with magnesium salts that it was not worth working. In 1856 impure rock salt was found at a depth of 1100 feet, and in the following year pure rock salt was reached.

and its extraction proceeded with. "The potash salts overlying the rock salt were first mined for use as fertilizers in the early sixties, and there are now large chemical works where the salts are purified and produced in commercial forms. The cost of mining is very low and the output is now solely limited by the demand.

"The most recent deposits to be worked in Alsace, where first discovered in 1904, when borings were made in the hope of finding oil. These were first worked in 1909, and, as in the case of the Stassfurt mines, are under the control of the syndicate."

Doings In Social and Club Circles

DELIGHTFUL READINGS

William Lee Greenleaf Charmed Ebell Society—Delegates to Convention Named

The Ebell Society held its regular monthly meeting Saturday afternoon in Elks' hall, where the club women enjoyed a very interesting afternoon's program.

Upon recommendation of the executive board, the society voted $40 to the endowment fund. This fund was established by the late Sarah Platt Decker, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and has been carried on as a memorial to her. It is hoped to raise this fund to $100,000, the income from which will be a permanent source of revenue for the General Federation work.

The club also voted to put the Ebell's lot on French street in good order and to have it kept so. It was reported to the club that the net proceeds of the Helen Keller entertainment were $443, and a vote of thanks was extended to Messrs. McPhee and Shaw of the Blade, to Mr. Baumgartner, Mr. Stephenson and Mrs. Roberts of the Register and to Mr. C. S. Kelley for their courteous interest and assistance to the Ebell in making the affair a success.

The state convention of Federated Women's Clubs will be held in Riverside April 28 to May 2 and the following Ebell past presidents were elected delegates: Mesdames Victor Montgomery, J. W. Bishop, S. M. Davis and A. J. Crookshank; alternates, Mesdames E. M. Nealley, Samuel W. Nau, W. L. Deimling, S. M. Deuring.

The County Federation meeting will be held in the Placencia Women's clubhouse April 16, with the Placencia Round Table club as hostess. The following delegates were chosen: Mesdames P. L. Tople, Max Reinhaus, N. P. Edwards, George Dobson, F. A. Marks, J. E. Liebigh, F. C. Rowland, W. L. Leiby, W. L. Deimling, J. E. Paul, C. A. Gustin, E. B. Burns, J. L. McCharles, Miss Minnie Childs; alternates, Mesdames F. M. Gier, W. S. Peck, R. E. English, W. W. Anderson, C. E. Lammie, F. J. Rogers, O. S. Emerson, Elizabeth Roemer, J. E. Gowen, W. L. Grubb, Frances Stone, C. F. Crose, Misses Mary Talbot and Ethel French.

The afternoon's entertainment was a series of dramatic readings given by Mr. William Lee Greenleaf. Mr. Greenleaf, who has an enviable reputation for the best of work in his line is a man of magnetic personal charm and the possessor of a speaking voice remarkable for its warmth and sympathy, and Mr. Greenleaf can do what he will with it. His remarkable ability as an impersonator was perhaps best shown in the half hour reading from Hamlet, when he peopled the stage with half a dozen characters.

"HELLO" GIRL'S HARD LINES—BE KIND TO HER

The average term of service of the 125,000 telephone girls in the United States is only three years. The average number of calls they must respond to is 140 per hour; and each call is accompanied by four flashes of light. The continual flashing frequently results in eye-strain, and this in headache, dullness, and exhaustion. Considerate telephone users will bear these facts in mind and speak gently to the operators when things go wrong.

acters at once and made each one alive and distinct from his fellows. Another Shakespearean number was from "Midsummer Night's Dream." Robert Burdette's "Aline," Ella Wheeler Wilcox's "Ships at Sea" and James Whitcomb Riley's beautiful story of "An Old Sweetheart of Mine" were given with exquisite feeling and sympathy, and as a final selection Mr. Greenleaf gave a poem by Tacitus Hussey, an Iowa poet. The poem is something after the style of Riley's, and Mr. Greenleaf gave the quiet country humor, with its touch of pathos, in a most delightful manner.

A Farewell Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. William Jeffrey entertained most delightfully with a six-course dinner on Saturday night as a courtesy to Harry Spencer, who sails April 12 for his old home in England to be absent two months.

The beautiful Jeffrey home on the Irvine ranch, located near Myford, was fairly abloom with dainty Dutchess roses. In the flower adorned living room the evening following the dinner was spent in whist and in talking over the beauties of the "old country." The Jeffreys returned not long ago from a trip to Glasgow, which was of course immensely enjoyed, as visits to the old home usually are.

Those in the congenial company of Saturday evening were, the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spencer and daughter Adelaide, Mr. and Mrs. George Jeffrey and son, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. William Jeffrey, Jr., Messrs. Robinson, W. R. Groff and Robert Jeffrey.

Pleasant Afternoon
Mrs. W. B. Hervey of Los Angeles, who spent the week-end at the home of her son, Dr. A. R. Hervey, and family, was the complimented guest Saturday afternoon at an informal gathering of old friends.

Needlework and friendly chat pleasantly whiled away the time and at the close of the afternoon delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. A. R. Hervey.

Those invited to meet Mrs. Hervey, Sr. were Mrs. J. A. Turner, Mrs. Tom Hill, Mrs. J. O. Daniel, Mrs. N. Cartmell and Mrs. E. S. Wallace.

At Spurgeon School
Owing to the spring vacation in the city schools opening next week, the monthly meeting of the Spurgeon School Teachers' Association will be held tomorrow (Tuesday), March 31, instead of next Tuesday as expected. The annual election of officers will be held tomorrow, and all members are urged to be present.

Woman's Club Social Day
This being the fifth Tuesday in the month, the Woman's Club, according to custom, will hold a social meeting of the club in the afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Anna S. Gale, 922 North Spurgeon street. A delightful time is anticipated and all members are urged to be present.

ROMANTIC MARRIAGE

Former Gas Company Manager of Santa Ana Wins Consent of Bride to Midnight Ceremony

A wedding of more than usual interest to Santa Anans was recently performed on the sands of the Venice beach when Miss Zella T. See, formerly chief operator of the Pacific Telephone Company of this city, was married at four minutes past midnight to Robert Cavanaugh, up until about seven months ago the local manager of the Southern Counties Gas Company.

A thread of romance runs through the story of how the ceremony was finally consummated. Mr. Cavanaugh, after obtaining the marriage license called up Miss See at Long Beach and then arranged to have a justice of the peace meet them at Venice.

Next he communicated with Park Prentiss, leader of the Venice band, and requested that Prentiss and his wife act as the ceremonial attendants.

When the bride-to-be realized the hurried marriage ceremony which her sweetheart had staged she demurred. The justice of the peace waited until 11:45 o'clock, and no wedding being in sight, went home. Miss See refused to be hurried in spite of Cavanaugh's pleading. Not until midnight did she give the word that Cavanaugh pleaded for—"Yes."

The justice of the peace having retired, the young people sought out Rev. Holmes of the Venice Union Church and he was hurriedly called.

Miss See insisted that the ceremony be performed on the beach, and her wish was law to all. The ceremony was finally solemnized and Mr. and Mrs. Cavanaugh became the guests at a wedding party tendered by Mr. and Mrs. Park Prentiss. The couple left yesterday for the North and after touring Canada and eastern cities will return to Long Beach.

Having the Time of Their Lives
The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Neil McTaggart, who left on Feb. 15 for a trip around the world, the journey being a unique and delightful way of celebrating their silver wedding anniversary falling on March 6, will be interested in the following message from Mr. McTaggart, written under date of March 11, from Yokohama, Japan:

"Arrived here all O. K. on the 7th of March. Will leave on the 21st of March on the Prince Elfrid for China. Sunday was a lovely day, just like Southern California, but it has been a little too cool since. Went to Tokyo yesterday; had a fine time. That is the capital of Japan—about 3,000,000; home of the Emperor; saw the Palace, Temple, etc. It was a kind of a wonderland to me. My wife and I both felt fine all the way over. Having the time of our lives."

Monday Club
There will be a special meeting of the Monday Club held this evening at the home of the president, Mr. Prince L. Tople, 329 South Main St. The members are expected to bring their lady friends. The paper of the evening will be presented by Mr. A. J. Perkins on "The Origin of Our Common Vegetables."

United Presbyterian Social
The Christian Endeavor Society of the United Presbyterian church will hold a social in the church this evening at 8 o'clock. All young people of the church and especially all college students who are home for vacation week are cordially invited.

Epworth, Iowa, Picnic
An event of considerable interest to the participants took place last Saturday. A number of former residents of Epworth, Iowa, met in Echo Park, Los Angeles, for their annual reunion and picnic, which proved as usual a delightful renewal of old associations. Twenty-six were present, mostly residents of Los Angeles, some from Long Beach, Pomona and San Fernando, besides some from Santa Ana. Those from this city were Mrs. J. H. Edwards and Misses Sullivan, Randall and Lorraine French.

Celebrated for Three
A triple birthday event was celebrated yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Beals, 821 E street, by a handsomely appointed 1 o'clock dinner with elaborate menu. The principals in the affair were Mrs. K. Scheidecker and her grandson,

Ralph Beals, whose birthdays fall on the same date, March 29, and her granddaughter, little Miss Dorothy Beals, whose natal day is very close to that of the others, Mrs. Scheidecker is the mother of Mrs. N. A. Beals. Covers were laid for eight. The table was delightfully decorated with pink roses and candles, and there were beautiful presents for each of the honorees.

Those at the tables were the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Beals, Mrs. Scheidecker, Mr. and Mrs. A. Beals, Miss Jennie Suppen and Ralph and Dorothy Beals.

Entertained Old Friends
Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Davis of Tustin, who with their brother, John Davis, some five months ago purchased a beautiful ten-acre orange and lemon ranch on Main street, just off Lyon street, were host and hostess on Sunday to old Colorado friends at a royal turkey dinner served at noon. The affair was a surprise to Mr. W. T. Davis, his wife and brother planning it for him in honor of his birthday.

Lovely pink roses culled from the wealth of choice bloom that adorned the Davis grounds, were used in house and table decorations, and the pretty home was redolent with the fragrance of the sweet blossoms.

Those invited were old friends of twenty-five years' standing, whose acquaintance began on the western slope of Colorado in the Uncompaghe River Valley, later made famous by the Gunnison tunnel and canal, the first of the vast reclamation schemes to be begun and completed by the United States government.

Those invited were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ash, Miss Annie Ash, Park Ash, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Roberts. When this group of people lived in the Uncompaghe River Valley the Davis brothers were widely known stockmen with cattle roaming the splendid ranges of the valley and the plateau of a surrounding mountain range; Mr. and Mrs. Ash were owners of extensive ranch holdings on what was known as the Ash mesa, and Mr. Roberts was publisher of the Montrose Messenger, the first paper published on the Ute Indian reservation of Southwestern Colorado after it had been thrown open to settlement following the removal of the Indians to the Utah reservation in Utah. Since then these people migrated to widely separated points, the Davises to Routt county, Colorado, for more extensive stock raising; the Ashes to Washington and Oregon, and Mr. and Mrs. Roberts to Virginia and later to Chicago, all finally locating in Orange county. Thus strangely do paths, once parallel, then widely diverging, unexpectedly join again in the eventual journey of life.

Held Mock Trial
The Webster Debating Club of the high school met on Saturday evening at the home of Miss Lois Wilson on 645 North Biltmore street. A good attendance marked the evening. During the business meeting eight new members were elected.

The program consisted of a mock trial, in which Bruce Wallace was presiding judge, with Dana Keech, Frank West, Benny Osterman and Raymond Adkinson as the attorneys. Dixon Tubbs was the defendant against a charge of wife desertion, and Norma Wingood was the plaintiff. Paul Anderson was foreman of the jury, all of those present outside of the court officers and principals acting on the jury. Irving Burns was attorney for the defendant. The trial occupied most of the evening, argument waxing fast and furious. The jury held for the fair plaintiff and the judge sentenced Mr. Tubbs to support his wife.

WORCESTER, Mass., March 30.—Worcester is without telephone service, as the result of a fire which broke out in the central exchange at 3 o'clock Sunday morning. AMUSEMENTS

"Into the Foothills" is being presented at the Lyric theater this afternoon and will be shown tonight. This is considered one of Elmer's best productions of a two-part photo play.

The romance of the story is delightful; the tragic reflection found in the villainous prospector's brutal treatment and subsequent murder of his wife produce affecting pathos, and the fight that is made for the rich mine thrills to the utmost. It is a drama you will enjoy as the refreshing scenery of the early days of the West is brought out with astonishing effect. Here is a story that has a punch, gripping and most entertaining.

"She Was Only a Working Girl" is one of those up-roaring, joker comedies of par-excellence. The program also consists of another western drama, entitled "Fires of Conscience," featuring Dorothy Davenport and Wallace Reid.

CALIFORNIA DRY IN 1914

CAMPAIGN IS NOW FULLY ON

Anti-Saloon League of America to Give Aid---Powerful Speakers Will be Sent Here---Work Began Sunday

WESTERVILLE, Ohio, March 29.—States Indian Service, now editor of It has been decided by the headquarters committee of the Anti-Saloon League of America, whose general offices and publishing house are in this city, to throw the whole power of its organization and resources into the support of the "Dry California" campaign this year.

While the general headquarters of the League are in this city, it has more than 100 fully equipped offices in all the principal cities of the nation. It has more than 800 salaried officers and employees, and publishes about forty periodicals throughout the country, all directed against the liquor traffic.

In California, the principal offices are at San Francisco, Los Angeles and Sacramento. The center of the California operations will be in San Francisco, where Rev. Dr. A. S. Bane is now in charge. The legislative work is in charge of Rev. D. M. Gaudier, who is recognized as one of the astute and most successful men connected with the organization.

The League will immediately begin systematically sending its most powerful speakers into the field and continue that policy increasingly until the final vote is taken in November. Among the star speakers already scheduled to canvass the state are such men as ex-Governor Malcolm R. Patterson of Tennessee, congressman and one of the most powerful orators in the entire South. Twice was Mr. Patterson elected governor of his own state, and, until some months ago, he was the strongest advocate of the licensed saloon in America. He vetoed prohibition bills that had passed the Tennessee legislature, pardoned convicted liquor dealers by the wholesale, and spoke on the platform in defense of the trade. Some months ago he was converted and joined the Presbyterian church in his home city of Memphis. Shortly afterwards, he reversed his position on the liquor question and has since fought for prohibition of the liquor traffic with greater fury than he formerly supported it.

Ex-Governor Robert B. Glenn of North Carolina is another of the "governors" who will speak in behalf of a dry California. Hon. G. Woolley, at one time candidate for president on the Prohibition ticket, is another of the "big guns" who will take part in the California fight. Others who will come to California to take a hand in the fracas for the national organization are Rev. Dr. Purley A. Baker, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League; Rev. George W. Morrow of Michigan; Rev. Sam Small, of Georgia; Ernest H. Cherrington, general manager of the publishing interests of the Anti-Saloon League of America; Dr. Howard H. Russell, founder of the original Anti-Saloon organization; Rev. Edwin C. Diawiddle, legislative superintendent of the League, Washington, D. C.; William E. Johnson, formerly chief officer of the United and the traffic in intoxicants was well nigh annihilated on numerous reservations throughout the country. Eight officers of this service have been murdered since its establishment—two of whom were murdered in California—which indicates its dangerous character.

It is the policy of the Anti-Saloon League organization to throw the whole weight of its power into any state where a campaign is on for statewide prohibition. In this way and through this medium, the whole temperance resources of the nation are centered for the fray in that particular state.

HARDY SEES MAGIC

YOSEMITE VALLEY

The interesting description of one of nature's greatest marvels is given by E. E. Hardy of this city, who contributes to the current magazines. Of the Yosemite Valley Mr. Hardy says: For ages this wonderful region, whose birthday is as remote as time, laid in the heart of the mighty Sierras unknown. The Yosemite is pre-eminently a region of contrasts—yonder an ice-clad peak piercing the sky, while at my feet a pleasant verdant meadow and a placid river ripples on to a peaceful lake, like a cup of molten silver surrounded with foliage. Beyond is the dark pines and the giant outlines of the mountain walls towering in the blue distance.

I have spent many days on these mural walls, which rise many thousand feet, the higher peaks being mantled in snow that looks amber-like in the summer sun. It seems that nature has made a supreme effort here. Nowhere else do rivers thunder over cliffs a half a mile high, nor in any other place have the snow waters of the mountains found such beauty and variety of courses down the mountain walls.

I raised my glasses and viewed the vast expanse of thousands of feet below, the valleys and canyons to where the mountains were lost in the misty blue. Alert with wonder and admiration, with a feeling of delight, I beheld the colossal greatness, the marvelous beauty and the dazzling brilliancy of the palatial mountain domes, all cloud-wrapped, snow capped and sky mantled.

Again I looked down on the perian white river and watched the crystal waters leap into the awful space; the great volume, the mighty leap, the grey and yellow walls, and below the green herbage, combined, makes one of the most beautiful pictures in all the world.

Silently I stood and beheld nature's supreme effort, I wept. I left the place filled with emotions I can never describe.

DUELING CUSTOM IN GERMANY GETS KNOCKDOWN BLOW

BERLIN, March 30.—The sentence of dismissal from the army and detention in a fortress for two years, which was imposed upon Lieutenant La Vallette by a courtmartial the past week, is the severest blow dealt to dueling in the German army in years. Lieutenant La Vallette became commander of the wife of a brother officer named Lieutenant Haage, who accompanied him to a masquerade ball.

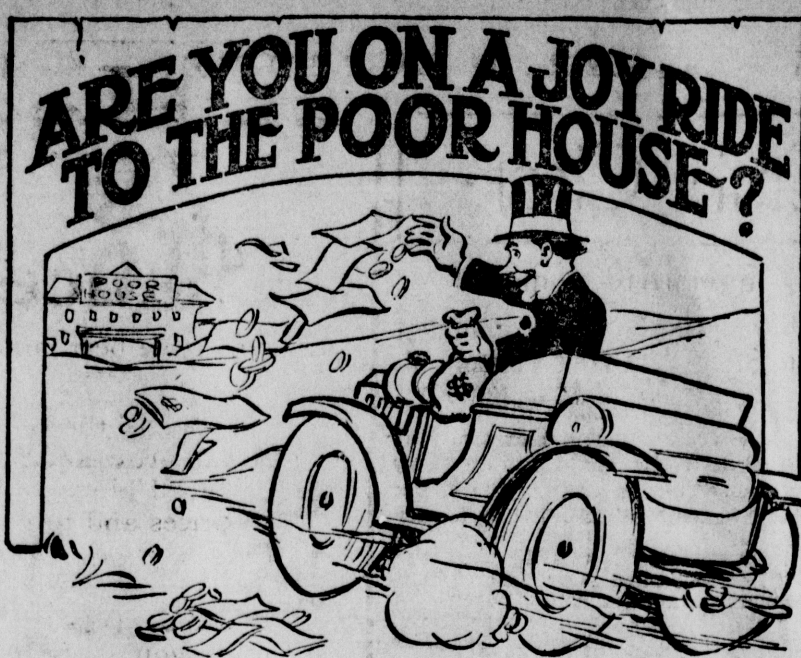

Lieutenant Haage heard of the matter and challenged Lieutenant La Vallette to fight a duel. The challenge was accepted and the duel was fought with pistols at twenty-five yards. Lieutenant Haage was shot through the heart and slain at the first shot. The courtmartial found that Lieutenant La Vallette slew him and also that instead of protecting the wife of a brother officer he offended her, and that this was the direct cause of the duel. Lieutenant La Vallette declares that he will appeal the case.

NATIONAL ORANGE SHOW PERMANENTLY ASSURED

M. Renfro as secretary of the chamber. Mr. Renfro will consolidate the duties as secretary of the two organizations, and the office of the National Orange Show, which will be held for the fifth time in 1915, will now be open at all times.

JUDGMENT OF $1092 GIVEN

Nye is Winner Through Default of Defendant Sales Company

This morning Judge West entered judgment for $1092.21 in favor of Richard Nye and against the California Home Co. Nye's claim was for automobile hire in transporting prospective buyers of lots from Santa Ana to Laguna Beach and for lunches furnished the prospects. The defendant did not appear, and judgment was by default. Clyde Bishop is attorney for the plaintiff.

Probably Appeal
It is probable that Dr. D. F. Royer of Orange will take an appeal from the judgment entered in favor of the defendant in the suit brought by Dr. Royer against D. N. Kelly as executor of the estate of Caroline M. Conn. The opinion of Judge West giving the decision to Kelly was filed several days ago. Today the findings and judgment in accordance with the opinion were filed. The judge found that while the contracts were entered into between Dr. Royer and Mrs. Conn whereby Dr. Royer expected to receive $25,000 from the estate, no consideration had been given by Dr. Royer and the contracts were not binding against the estate.

Matter Settled
Today a dismissal was entered of a citation proceedings in the guardianship of Adalia and Aguida Manriquez. It was alleged that Dolores Castano as executrix of the estate of Manuel Manriquez was withholding money from the minors, and she had been cited to show cause why she did not pay the money. Today a

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

$1,000 BAIL GIVEN BY MAN ACCUSED OF AUTOMOBILE THEFT

Frank D. Mitchell, charged with stealing a $1490 automobile from Hugh Plumb on April 16, 1913, is to have his preliminary examination on April 9. Mitchell has given $1000 bail with Fred A. Harrington and Minna E. White as sureties.

Charge Disturbance
J. D. Melnes swore to a complaint charging Jose Jimenez, Vicente Rios and Eladio Flores with disturbing the peace at Newport Heights. The three defendants pleaded not guilty and their trials were set for April 23.

Case Dismissed
On the advice of prosecuting Attorney A. E. Knepper, Cox dismissed the case of George Blank, who had been arrested on a complaint of false advertising, sworn to by E. A. Kneller, formerly the owner of an East Fourth street store. Blank advertised a "bankrupt" sale, stating that Kneller had been "forced to make an assignment." This assertion was denied by Kneller. It developed that an assignment had been made, turning the stock in the store over to Felix Southwick of Los Angeles. When asked if he advertised bankrupt goods without having any in stock, Blank said he had brought some bankrupt goods from Los Angeles and that he had a perfect right to advertise them for sale under that description.

RAINS WON'T KEEP FISHERMEN BACK

Inquiry among the local sporting goods men brings out the fact that the rain of the last three days will not deter the trout fishermen from going on their trips on April 1. The various trout streams of the county are certain to have been more or less muddied by the rainfall. There is no question but that there will be great quantities of water in the streams. However, should there be any more rain between now and day after tomorrow the water courses will have ample time to clear themselves of mud. The only other factor which will make fishing somewhat slim is the quantity of food which will be washed down the hills into the creeks. The trout will get plenty of food in the way of worms and bugs and this will make them slow to jump for the anglers' flies.

ATLANTIC SEABOARD CITIES MAY GET CHEAPER COAL RATE
PHILADELPHIA, March 30.—Charges along the Atlantic seaboard receiving Pennsylvania anthracite coal by water may be benefited by a proposed reduction in price as a result of the hearing resumed here today by the Public Utilities Commission into the cost of transportation of the coal to this seaport. An exhaustive expert accountants' report showed that the railroads charged about three times what the service cost them. Nearly 2,000,000 tons leave this port annually for New England and other points.

EUROPE'S AIRMEN TO FLY TO MONTE CARLO AIR RALLY

PARIS, March 30.—The Monte Carlo Aerial Rally, when aeroplanes from most of the capitals of Europe will converge by aerial routes with the gambling resort as their goal, commences next Wednesday, the new style meet lasting from April 1 to April 15. Competitors will start from Paris, London, St. Petersburg, Vienna, Brussels, Rome, Madrid, etc., and, officially timed, each will try to make the swiftest trip to Monte Carlo. Birdmen starting from Paris will have to make certain detours so that the total flight will be as long as that by a St. Petersburg airman, for instance. Distances from all the cities will thus be equalized. There are numerous handsome prizes.

MOTORBOATS SHIPPED TO CONGO BY THE BELGIANS

ANTWERP, March 30.—The Belgian government is sending three so-called slooping motorboats to the Congo for river traffic. These boats are fifty-seven feet long and have a draught of only twenty-seven and a half inches. They are driven by motors of 300 horsepower and have an ordinary speed of twenty-three miles an hour.

The boats can each bear a load of eight tons and accommodate eight passengers in an airy cabin suited to the tropics. The accommodations are much like those of a Pullman car. The boat service for freight, mail and passengers will be started on June 4 from Leopoldville to Stanley Falls.

EX-ATTORNEY GENERAL IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

NEW YORK, March 30.—George W. Wickensham, attorney general of the United States under President Taft, and his granddaughter, Winifred Akin, four years old, a daughter of Albert J. Akin of Hewlett, L. I., were cut by splintered glass yesterday and barely escaped more serious injury when a large touring car, carrying them northward in the southern boulevard, smashed into a trolley pole.

Young Prince Henry in His First Top Hat

A branch yard is being established at Garden Grove by the Roberts-Oliver Lumber Company of this city. The office and lumber sheds are being built and will be ready for occupancy in about a week. A complete line of lumber and general building material is to be handled by the new branch, which is located on Ocean avenue, across from the Pacific Electric depot. R. E. Gerren, former yard man of the Roberts-Oliver Company's yard in Santa Ana, will be the resident manager at Garden Grove.

NEW YORK GUNMEN HAVE LITTLE HOPE OF SAVING LIVES

ALBANY, March 30.—That four New York gunmen sentenced to death for killing Gambler Rosenthal, have little hope of securing a postponement of their execution, was semi-officially stated today. They are scheduled to die on April 14. Their counsel will present Governor Glynn with a statement signed by ten jurors who convicted the gangsters, asking postponement until after the second trial of Charles Becker, who secured a new trial after his death sentence had been passed.

LATHAM MONUMENT
PARIS, March 30.—France's first "cigarette monument" today was unveiled on the cliffs overlooking the English Channel at Calais. It is in honor of Hubert Latham, the aviator. A bronze figure of the late birdman shows him looking toward Dover, a cigarette in his hand. Latham was an incessant smoker and when picked up in the channel after his unsuccessful attempt to cross it in an aeroplane, he was calmly puffing away.

Nothing seems safe from the fickle fingers of fashion. Now it's the wedding ring that is having the changes rung. Not content with restricting its change of style to its width as heretofore fashion has decreed that gold is no longer the chic material. Hence the nuptial band of platinum will encircle the third left finger of all fashionable 1914 brides if the bridegroom knows what's what.

STORM TOTAL IS .99 INCHES

POLICE THINK MAN IS RAFAEL BORRERO

The Riverside police are satisfied that a man who was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 for shoplifting at Riverside is none other than Rafael Borrero, who killed Deputy Constable Juan Grosco at Los Alamitos on Aug. 28, 1907. The man convicted of theft at Riverside gave the name of Francisco Juarez.

Borrero faced three juries here. One disagreed, another found him guilty of manslaughter, and on a new trial he was again found guilty of manslaughter. Judge West sentenced him to a term in San Quentin, which was served.

IOWA HITS PACKERS—TO RAISE MEAT FOR OWN USE

DES MOINES, Ia., March 30.—While the board of control now buys annually nearly 2,000,000 pounds of meat for the feeding of the inmates of the state institutions, a plan is being worked out so that each institution, as far as practicable, will raise the cattle and hogs required for its own use. This scheme will withdraw from the packing firms their heaviest customer in Iowa. The state's meat bill each year amounts to nearly $200,000.
